

Unique Article Wizard BACKLINK EXPLOSION

If you're an Internet/Article Marketer, then I'm no doubt sure that you have heard of Unique Article Wizard (UAW).

For those of you who are new to the world of Article Marketing, then let me give you a brief explanation of what UAW is, how UAW works, and why it is the most sort after tool by any serious Article Marketer.

UAW is the best article marketing and article submission tool available on the internet. It requires you to upload 3 articles (one seed article and two rewrites) into it's system. The system will then blast different versions of these 3 articles by interchanging the rewritten paragraphs. By using this method, rather than just spinning the article twice, each version of the article will be readable and make sense. This can not be said of spun articles, which more than likely will be unreadable because they make no sense. The theory behind submitting different versions of your article is that you will please Google, thereby receiving better search engine results.

This may be true, but the problem of duplicate content is specifically when it is found on the same domain. Therefore, if you were to submit different versions of the article or the exact same version, you would receive the same results as far as the number of backlinks is concerned.

Different articles x 500 submissions = 1000 backlinks

The same article x 500 submissions = 1000 backlinks

This is assuming that the 1000 submissions are turning up on different domains and being published. (Please note that Submission does not equal Publication)

So what is the point of this PDF?

Great question! I'm glad you asked.

The Answer

You can save yourself a considerable amount of money and/or time by --->

1. Not having to outsource for 3 articles to be written (one seed article and two rewrites)
2. Not having to write the 3 articles (one seed article and two rewrites)

In addition to this you can have unlimited articles at your disposal for submission --->

1. All of your old articles that you have submitted to EZA and/or the plethora of other article directories.
2. Any PLR articles that you have.

If you do not have PLR articles, please take a look at the following links for ideas --->

You should also check out the WSO section of the Warrior Forum for any deals on PLR articles.

If you'd prefer to have articles written, then I'd recommend you to use the services of the following Warrior service --->

I'd recommend you to buy 350 word articles. Of course, 500 word articles would be better, though not necessary. (A minimum of 300 words is required by UAW)

Now that you have your articles, be they old ones, new ones or PLR. What next?

Well, if you don't have a UAW account then you should sign up. ($67 monthly)

After opening your UAW account, you may start uploading your articles.

The trick that you are going to employ that saves you time and money is to insert not 3 different articles (one seed article and two rewrites) but the same article 3 times!

Please note that you're not doing anything wrong, and although you are not using the UAW system as originally intended (which is their big sales point) you are deciding that you'd rather take your chances at sending the same article to their list of blogs and directories. This is not a problem!

What I do recommend you to do, at the very least, is to rewrite the titles of 2 of the articles, and all of them if they are PLR articles. If you'd like to add extra titles & authors, then knock yourself out as it will certainly be better. You do not need to change the content of the articles, but again, that is entirely up to you. How much time, effort and money do you want spend on your article marketing campaigns?

Remember the main purpose of UAW is to blast your articles all over the internet and to gain you 2 backlinks per article that is published.

Word of Warning! I highly recommend that you don't submit more than 2 article sets a week per niche. The reason being, if you are overwhelming the same blogs and directories with your articles on a daily basis, the chances of being published will greatly diminish.

Additionally, you are allowed to resubmit your articles at anytime, but it is prudent to wait at least 4 months after the initial submission was completed. This should allow you to gain more backlinks from new blogs and directories that have joined the UAW network after your previous submission had finished. Over time this accumulation of backlinks can be very powerful.

Article Marketing is a long-term SEO tool that works most effectively with persistent and consistent article submissions. This method will save you time and money while ensuring a steady flow of backlinks to your websites.
